Personal

Lucy' comes from an equestrian family; her father rode for Holland and Great Britain and both parents have been involved in producing and selling event horses for over 25 years. Lucy who now runs a busy eventing and livery yard near Beaworthy in Devon had success at Junior and Young Rider level and is the only rider to have won a national championship at three levels of competition; Junior (1995) Young Rider (1998) and she won the British Open at Gatcombe in 2006. Last year she was ranked fifth in the BE rider rankings.

After success at Badminton in 2008 Lucy was set to make her senior team debut for the Olympic Games but was forced to withdraw after injury to Shaabrak. Last year she rode as an individual for GB at the European Championships finishing in 13th place.

Lucy has a degree in English from Exeter University and had a sabbatical year working as a journalist for Horse &Hound. She writes a regular column for Horse magazine and contributes to the Western Morning News and Eventing Magazine. Lucy can play the cello and the piano and enjoys hockey and netball.

Woodfall Inigo Jones came to the yard as a five-year-old while the owner-bred Granntevka Prince is a former winner of the BE Young Horse Championships and last year won Blenheim three-star.
