Personal

Daniel is based near Newton Abbott in Devon where he runs a yard with partner Kelly Cunningham. Daniel began competing with the South Devon Moorland Pony Club representing the club at area and championship level, and left school at 16 to pursue a career in horses. In 2003 he was badly injured, the result of a fall and was unable to ride for almost a year.

Back in the saddle he began competing and was selected for the 2004 Junior Squad but due to horse injury just before was unable to compete and in 2007 short-listed for the Young Rider squad but again had to withdraw.

He started 2008 as stable jockey to Catherine Witt in Cheshire but moved when offered the 'dream' opportunity to be based with Andrew Nicholson for the remainder of the season.

Tarmac Adam acquired from Rodney Powell in 2005 is by the Trakehner stallion Utopian Opposition another British-bred son of the stallion Fleetwater Opposition.
